Clauses

A clause is part of a sentence. A clause must contain a verb (a doing or being word). The main clause in a sentence makes sense on its own; it can usually be written as a sentence by itself. A subordinate clause gives further meaning to the main clause but does not make complete sense on its own.

Look at this sentence.

As