

Numbers and pictures

Count the animals, draw the dots, and write the number.

Draw your own examples.

At this stage, it is more important for children to be able to read the word for each number than to be able to spell it without help. Children can learn correct spellings gradually.